Academic Year 2022-2023, Fall 2022

Organization Name:	To be announced
Course at Frederick University:	NURS309: Community Nursing II
Programme of Study at FU:	BSc in Nursing
Project Title:	BSc in Nursing
Project Overview:	Frederick University Nursing students, wanting to contribute to the local community, aim to organize voluntary student training in local schools. In particular, they are expected to conduct a first aid seminar, one on healthy diet and one on wound care for those students who aim to study health sciences in the future. The training is expected to take place in a school near the university in its first phase, while in the second phase the students will be invited to visit the university premises and attend the second part of their training in the laboratories, at a practical level.
